NONSENSE NARRATIVE: AN ABSTRACT HISTORY

Manjushree Thapa

I in relation to the matter of sitting and working in the committee, as the jeth 23. 2058 meeting of the permanent committee decided that it is not within my prerogative to stay in the committee, i accordingly submit my resignation.

adc: after he requested cigarettes from me I called the orderly from the set. after calling him from the set it turned out he was near me. he said I'm right here sir. after that alright take this to the drawing room. he's near the corner in the drawing room.

orderly: i cigarettes now there was a special--substance in the cigarettes.

committee: how much ganja, how much black was put in one stick?

orderly: i don't know the full oo. that too not always; every now and then at the time of an oo.

committee: which was it? was it an oo with black, or with the other?

orderly: there was black mixed in and also the other.

surgeon: no, none of them were in a condition to speak.

committee: now this postmortem hasn't been performed, so the things as the cause of death, how much accuracy do they have from a medical point of view? in terms of medical science?

neurosurgeon: the international...what there is, is that there are incidents like this where postmortems aren't performed. in the event that a situation is created where it's not necessary, there's a tradition that a postmortem needn't be performed....

chairman of the state council: i looked inside. inside, his majesty the king, her majesty the queen to even ask in a flash his majesty the king...after asking that i couldn't guess i said his majesty the king...the word...death...i tried to see her majesty the queen, the doctors are working. i couldn't control myself. i was compelled to sob out loud. what is this?

prime minister: people were running this way and that, as for the doctors, they were all busy upstairs. i kept sitting there. i just sat there; i didn't receive any information about what was going on, how things were.

chief of the army staffs: the question is important. the security of the royal palace is not the responsibility of the royal nepal army. there are two battalions in there. there is the royal security army police. there are adcs. the complete security in there is looked after by the adc office, the army secretary or the chief army secretary. the royal nepal army bears no responsibility, this is the first thing.

psychiatrist: thinking that one's personality is good is positive thinking. thinking that one's personality is not good is negative thinking.
